People

“Serve”

Gather:

- Take some time to talk about your week.
- If money were no issue, what would your perfect vacation look like?
- Why is God so good?

Change:

- What stuck out the most to you from this weekend’s message?
- Read Mark 2:1-12 using the same “Picture It” method we have been using the last couple of weeks, (Have one person read and everyone else close their eyes and put themselves in the story as an onlooker. Notice the smells, sounds, sights, and confusion in the room). *Remember, Jesus is teaching in a packed-out house when the roof starts getting torn apart. How would the people in the house respond? How would you respond? How did Jesus respond?
- As followers of Christ we are called to serve in a way that will always be outside of our comfort zone. Thinking about the examples from the message of dreaming big, what are some practical ways that you can dream big and truly serve your family, friends, neighbors, coworkers, and the people around you?
- At Shift Church we take the Serve commitment seriously because Jesus specifically said he came to serve rather than be served. This past weekend we talked about how saved people serve people. We also talked about how the greatest commandment is to love God and the second is to love others as ourselves. Take some time to really think and talk about the next questions because they have the potential to help identify and guide your spiritual next steps. How am I doing loving the people God has given me to love? Am I serving them the same way that Jesus would?

Serve:

- In regard to the previous question, how is Jesus specifically calling you to love and serve someone in your sphere of influence? What will you do with this calling?
- Remember we may or may not... (ok, we will) have Shift swag that we want to share, so Invite someone new to be a part of the Shift over the next few weekends. If eternity is at stake, which it is, then we need to live with a greater sense of urgency. God is for the people of Gainesville! So let's let them know!

- Have you served Gainesville as a small group yet? Talk about ways your group could serve the people of Gainesville... Dream Big!!
